A Message From the Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

Thursday of this week, St. Elizabeth Ann Seton School said farewell to our 8th grade graduating class. Families and friends joined the graduates for a Mass of Thanksgiving. Bishop Joseph Pepe presided. I want to congratulate our students for all their hard work over many years at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton School. We wish our 8th graders continued success upon leaving the walls of elementary school and pray their journey will be filled with many more blessings!

Summer is right around the corner. As we head into the days of vacation, barbecues, summer reading lists, family reunions and trips to the beach, be mindful of your parish family. We need to be especially mindful of our commitment to volunteer our time to our parish. During the summer months we often scramble to fill the roster of liturgical ministers who are out on vacation, and sometimes people forget to call and ask how they might fill a need. We should, of course, not forget our parish when we go away on vacation. Make sure to increase your gifts to make up for those weekend Masses you will not attend at your parish. November and December may be the biggest months for giving in the United States. But for those lazy days of summer? Not so much.

This weekend we celebrate Memorial Day: we remember those who have died in defense of family, friends and homeland. The first Memorial Day was celebrated in 1868 and originated from the hearts and minds of those who visited the vast graveyards of soldiers after the Civil War. They would bring flowers to put on these soldiers' graves and thus it was originally called "Decoration Day." The tradition has carried on through the years and now we remember all those who have died in all wars throughout our history. Great celebrations, parades, and family gatherings, etc. are held to honor these heroes of our land. It is good to remember the dead and to pray for them. Scripture calls us to do this for all those who have gone before us. But we, as a nation, have set aside this special day for those who have fought and died for us, many of whom whose remains may never be identified.

With so many graves, from so many wars, they serve as stark reminders of the tragedy of war and the high cost of relinquishing peace. Catholics are also asked to pray at this special time for all those who are innocent victims of war: the homeless, the dead, the wounded, the hungry and the many orphaned children. All suffer from the effects of war.
So this is truly a time to pray for world-wide peace and justice for all people of all nations. How wonderful it would be to be able to settle our problems without war; to agree to disagree and live in harmony.

May those who have died defending liberty, in the hope of peace to come, not be forgotten, and may their deaths not have been in vain.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Bede Wevita

Father's Day Novena—June 19

The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Fed By The Lord

Jesus' words "This is my body" and "This cup is the new covenant in my blood" were only part of his table blessing. Jesus twice said: "Do this in remembrance of me" (1 Corinthians 11:24, 25).

This is the good news of today's solemnity. Like the five thousand hungry souls, we are fed by our Lord. This is not food that satisfies for only a short time, until the next meal. It is food that lasts and changes us. It is food for sharing in much the same way as Melchizedek did when he brought bread and wine to the returning Abraham.

As children of God's reign, we are blessed to be able to receive and share God's gift. And we do so in the way most appropriate to our state in life—as parents, children, husbands, wives, or religious.

Ways of Participating in the Paschal Mystery

Through participation in the Eucharist, we also participate in the Paschal Mystery of Christ, that is, in his dying and rising, which is made present for us in the Eucharistic sacrifice. This participation in the Paschal Mystery of Christ reaches its consummation when we receive his Body and Blood in Holy Communion. Christ's victory and triumph over death is then made present in the lives of those who participate in the Eucharist.

Holy Communion increases our union with Christ. "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him" (Jn 6:56). Communion with the Body of Christ preserves, increases, and renews the life of grace received at Baptism.

Holy Communion separates us from sin. We receive the Body of Christ "given up for us" to save us from sin. We receive the Blood of Christ "shed for many for the forgiveness of sins." Our love of God is intensified and therefore our disordered attachments are weakened and even broken. Divine love wipes away venial sins.

Holy Communion offers us strength, called grace, to preserve us from mortal sin. By deepening our friendship with Christ, this Sacrament makes it more difficult for us to break our union with him by mortal sin.

Holy Communion offers us strength, called grace, to preserve us from mortal sin. By deepening our friendship with Christ, this Sacrament makes it more difficult for us to break our union with him by mortal sin.

Holy Communion expands the life of the Church. The Church as a communion is bound ever more closely together through the celebration of the Eucharist. As an ancient axiom states, the Church makes the Eucharist, and the Eucharist makes the Church. In receiving Communion, we are more fully united to the Church.

Holy Communion commits us to care for the poor. St. Paul reminded the Corinthians that in sharing the Body of Christ in the Eucharist, they were also called to care for the poorer members of the community (cf. 1 Cor 11:17-34).

Participation in the celebration of the Eucharistic sacrifice is a source and means of grace even apart from the actual reception of Holy Communion. It has also been long understood that when circumstances prevent one from receiving Holy Communion during Mass, it is possible to make a spiritual communion that is also a source of grace. Spiritual communion means uniting one's self in prayer with Christ's sacrifice and worshiping him present in his Body and Blood.

Jubilee Year of Mercy

Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi)

In this Jubilee Year of Mercy, the Lectionary's Year of Luke presents a Gospel in which Jesus, who has welcomed, taught, healed, and shown God's mercy to the multitude, refuses the Twelve's demand to dismiss the crowd before him. Instead, he says, "Give them some food yourselves" (Luke 9:13). In Jesus' hands, what little the Twelve has feeds five thousand ("men," and probably as many women and children), leaving twelve baskets so the Twelve can continue Jesus' ministry of mercy. Pope Francis has asked how we celebrate and live the Eucharist. Do we keep it to ourselves? Or do we "commune" not only with Jesus but with the multitude whom Jesus has given us to cherish? Entrusted to Jesus and shared with others, our limited resources can go a long way. Recognizing Jesus in the Eucharist demands that we recognize Jesus also in the hungry crowd. Adoring Jesus present in the Eucharist requires that we serve Jesus present in our neighbor.

A Stewardship Moment

From the rich Eucharistic themes to be drawn from today's second reading, one stewardship theme stands out: The Eucharist is Christ's gift to us. Good stewards are grateful for this gift and realize that no matter their station in life, they are welcome to come to the table and receive the body and blood of Christ. If Jesus could break bread with his betrayer, Judas, his denier, Peter, and the other ten who deserted him, then he will welcome us. Do we truly appreciate what a tremendous gift it is to approach the Lord's table? Do we accept the transforming power of the gift of Christ's body and blood?

Father's Day Novena

Our parish tradition is to pray for our fathers, both living and deceased, for nine masses beginning on Father's Day. Novena cards are now available in the gathering space of the church. The beautiful card is yours to keep. If you would like to include your fathers, grandfathers, fathers in law, and godfathers in this novena, please return the offering envelope in the collection basket or to the Kairos Gift Shop with the names of those you would like included. The Novena begins on Sunday, June 19.

Saint of the Week

Visitation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Feast—May 1

This feast commemorates the three-month visit of Mary with her elderly cousin Elizabeth during Mary's pregnancy with Jesus and Elizabeth's with John the Baptist. The story appears in the first chapter of Luke's Gospel. It recounts Elizabeth's Spirit-filled greeting, acknowledging Mary as "the mother of my Lord," and Mary's beautiful response, the Magnificat, which begins, "My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord." Introduced by the Franciscans in 1263, the feast became universal in the 16th century. The cousins' visit has been depicted by many artists over the centuries. An especially tender "Visitation," painted by Mariotto Albertinelli and considered his masterpiece, is on display at the Uffizi in Florence, Italy. -Copyright © 2016, Catholic News Service–United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, Washington, DC. Excerpts from Amoris Laetitia "The Joy of Love" - an Apostolic Exhortation from Pope Francis

Where Are Our Children?

Families cannot help but be places of support, guidance and direction, however much they may have to rethink their methods and discover new resources. Parents need to consider what they want their children to be exposed to, and this necessarily means being concerned about who is providing their entertainment, who is entering their rooms through television and electronic devices, and with whom they are spending their free time. Only if we devote time to our children, speaking of important things with simplicity and concern, and finding healthy ways for them to spend their time, will we be able to shield them from harm. Vigilance is always necessary and neglect is never beneficial. Parents have to help prepare children and adolescents to confront the risk, for example, of aggression, abuse or drug addiction.

Obsession, however, is not education. We cannot control every situation that a child may experience. Here it remains true that "time is greater than space".[291] In other words, it is more important to start processes than to dominate spaces. If parents are obsessed with always knowing where their children are and controlling all their movements, they will seek only to dominate space. But this is no way to educate, strengthen and prepare their children to face challenges. What is most important is the ability lovingly to help them grow in freedom, maturity, overall discipline and real autonomy. Only in this way will children come to possess the wherewithal needed to fend for themselves and to act intelligently and prudently whenever they meet with difficulties. The real question, then, is not where our children are physically, or whom they are with at any given time, but rather where they are existentially, where they stand in terms of their convictions, goals, desires and dreams. The questions I would put to parents are these: "Do we seek to understand 'where' our children really are in their journey? Where is their soul, do we really know? And above all, do we want to know?".[292]

Were maturity merely the development of something already present in our genetic code, not much would have to be done. But prudence, good judgement and common sense are dependent not on purely quantitative growth factors, but rather on a whole series of things that come together deep within each person, or better, at the very core of our freedom. Inevitably, each child will surprise us with ideas and projects born of that freedom, which challenge us to rethink our own ideas. This is a good thing. Education includes encouraging the responsible use of freedom to face issues with good sense and intelligence. It involves forming persons who readily understand that their own lives, and the life of the community, are in their hands, and that freedom is itself a great gift.

Freedom is something magnificent, yet it can also be dissipated and lost. Moral education has to do with cultivating freedom through ideas, incentives, practical applications, stimuli, rewards, examples, models, symbols, reflections, encouragement, dialogue and a constant rethinking of our way of doing things; all these can help develop those stable interior principles that lead us spontaneously to do good. Virtue is a conviction that has become a steadfast inner principle of operation. The virtuous life thus builds, strengthens and shapes freedom, lest we become slaves of dehumanizing and antisocial inclinations. For human dignity itself demands that each of us "act out of conscious and free choice, as moved and drawn in a personal way from within".[293]

Political Stewardship

Stewardship in the Public Square

Discussing civility in the public square, Cardinal Donald Wuerl, Archbishop of Washington, D.C., reminds American Catholics that they are "citizens of two worlds," the kingdom of God and of a great nation. The incivility displayed in this year's presidential campaign season sometimes makes it hard to reconcile these two citizenships. But it's precisely at this time that good stewards of God's love and mercy must become engaged politically.

Our Holy Father urges us to be ambassadors of Christ in the public square. Pope Francis has said, "We need to participate for the common good. Sometimes we hear: a good Catholic is not interested in politics. This is not true: good Catholics immerse themselves in politics by offering the best of themselves. . ." (Daily homily, 9/16/13).

How can we "offer the best of ourselves" in this political season? There are many ways. Christian stewards have a starting point: They recognize Jesus' admonition that nations will be judged by how they treat the poor, the sick, the weak, and most vulnerable in society (Matt 25:31-46), as well as how they respond to their neighbors (Luke 10:25-37).

They understand that political differences are expected, even among Christians, but their convictions are expressed with "gentleness and respect" (1 Peter 3:15).

Pope Francis challenges us to "immerse" ourselves in politics.

When we express our views through social media, we can raise the bar and interact with mercy, respect and dignity, as Jesus did. We avoid name-calling, mockery and insulting remarks, even in the privacy of our homes and especially in front of our children.

We never forget to vote, and to pray for our public leaders.

We become involved in organizations that focus on issues and advocate for causes that promote mercy, compassion and justice. We write to elected officials with well-expressed convictions to affirm or hold them accountable for their stewardship of the public trust. We speak truth boldly in the public square, not to force our faith and beliefs on others but as Christ's ambassadors, bearing the fruit of His Spirit (Gal. 5:22–26). We never forget to vote, and to pray for our public leaders.

Pope Francis challenges us to "immerse" ourselves in politics. As citizens of two worlds, we commit to promoting and supporting the common good. Our convictions on how best to nurture the common good may differ, but we must keep the pontiff's exhortation in mind: in politics, just as in life, Catholics must offer the best of themselves, and seek to find and pray for political leaders who do the same.

At Cave Quest, the children are following Jesus, the Light of the World! During this week, the children are grounded in the rock-solid foundation of God's love, a love that takes us through life's dark times. We learn throughout the week that Jesus gives us the gifts we need to keep shining like Him! On this adventure, the youth will deepen their faith by exploring underground with Sal, Mawtha, Radar, Olivia and Ray!

Session 2: August 1-5 "Egypt"

Welcome to Egypt! Each day, your children can become part of history as they see, hear, touch, and even taste what it was like to live in Pharaoh's empire! We'll explore authentic Marketplace shops, visit Joseph (who's in Pharaoh's prison...then gets promoted to Pharaoh's palace!), take part in games, dance to lively Bible songs, and sample tasty tidbits as you discover more about how God was with Joseph in good times and bad. These experiences make God's Word come alive with new meaning for all who participate!

NOW WHAT?

Our Catholic Faith teaches us that Social Justice is part of every aspect of our lives. As we return to our parish, we can create the Voice of St Elizabeth Ann Seton's Nevadans for the Common Good Parishioners.

Maybe you didn't know the teacher shortage was so high (over 780 teachers short), OR the disabled, like David, and his caretaker parents, could be directly affected by privatizing the services he receives to assist in his daily life.

Now is the time to create a plan of action! We'll do just that at our next gathering, the Nevadans for the Common Good Civic Academy. Come share your thoughts and personal stories. The Convention at Cashman Field was our Season Opener to the upcoming Nevada State Legislative Session. We have many events to hold, elected officials to question and stories from citizens to hear. Come join us!

Building Our Children's Faith

CATHOLIC CORNER

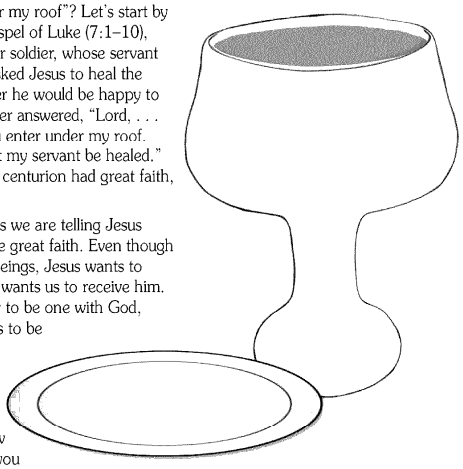

ONLY SAY THE WORD

Each week we have the great gift and privilege of being able to receive the Body and Blood of Jesus as our spiritual food. Just as healthy food makes our bodies strong, Holy Communion makes us spiritually strong.

Before the people in church approach the altar to receive Communion they join the priest in praying:

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed.

These words may sound a little unusual to us. What do we mean by "under my roof"? Let's start by reading a story from the Gospel of Luke (7:1–10), about a Roman centurion, or soldier, whose servant was very sick. The soldier asked Jesus to heal the servant. Jesus told the soldier he would be happy to come to his house. The soldier answered, "Lord, . . . I am not worthy to have you enter under my roof. . . . But say the word and let my servant be healed." Jesus told everyone that the centurion had great faith, and he healed the servant.

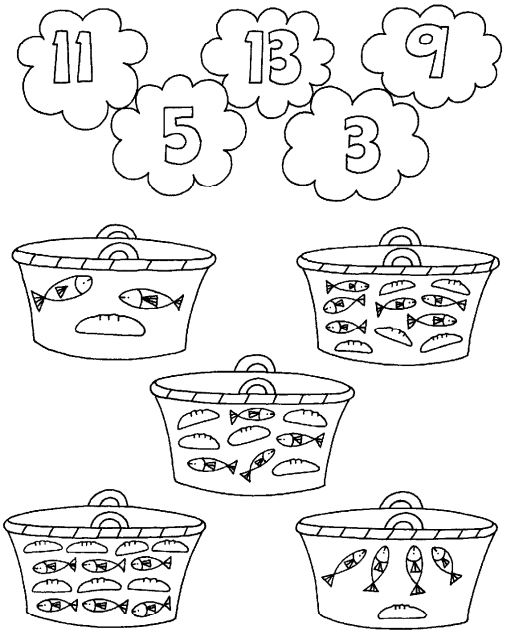

When we say these words we are telling Jesus that we believe, that we have great faith. Even though we are just humble human beings, Jesus wants to come and dwell with us. He wants us to receive him. We know we are not worthy to be one with God, but we know that God wants to be one with us and God can make that possible!

In this chalice and plate, write some words that describe how it feels to know that God wants to come to you in this special way.

When Jesus saw that people were hungry,
he multiplied five loaves of bread and two fishes.
They became so much food that his disciples were able to feed thousands of people and still collect twelve baskets of leftovers!
Count the number of loaves and fishes in the baskets.
Then draw a line from each to the cloud with that number.

5 GREAT REASONS to Patronize the Merchants in Our Church Bulletin!

1. They support the work of our church.

2. It keeps money in our community. For every $100 spent at a locally owned business, $68 goes back into the community and your tax base. For every $100 spent at a chain store, only $43 comes back. Online purchases bring nothing back to our local community.

3. Keeps our community unique. Where we shop, where we eat and have fun—all of it makes our community home. Our one-of-a-kind businesses are an integral part of the distinctive character of our community.

4. Creates more good jobs. Small local businesses are the largest employer nationally and in our community.

5. Get better service. Local businesses often hire people with a better understanding of the products they are selling and take more time to get to know customers.
